

Brecon u3a

We return to Theatr Brycheiniog tomorrow for the start of our academic year with many other interesting pastimes. The refurbishment and improvements at the Theatr are not quite complete so the bonus is that tomorrow we will be using the main auditorium. In the morning Phil Clark will be relating stories about his grandfather Jack Clark, "A True Breconian".

In the afternoon Science Questions will be answered, and we might learn how our brains control our heartbeats and what materials are needed for advanced batteries – perhaps the two are connected? And why the sky is blue? While "Earth Sciences" will go potholing and explore cave formation. Creative Writing and "Bookshelf" are also on our Agenda. Learn more on Brecon.u3asite.uk.
